

Welcome to B+B Edinburgh. We're delighted that you and your pet have decided to stay with us! Before we get you checked in, we'd just like to inform you about our "Paws Policy"

- A £50 fully refundable pet deposit will be added to all "pet-occupied" rooms to cover any unexpected eventualities.

We hope that you understand?

- No stray humans allowed, so all doggies please ensure that you don't leave your humans unattended.
- Guide dogs are our honoured guests and therefore have free access to all areas.
- Guest lounge (only at B+B Weymouth) welcomes both humans and dogs to have breakfasts there, in case furry friends don't want to stay alone in the room.
- If your doggy gets lonely and requires a pet sitter, we will gladly put you in touch with one of our pet-sitters.
- If your pet gets too excited for words, they'll probably be asked to go and get excited outside.
- We love to keep our rooms clean, so if you are staying over, we will require access to the room between breakfast and 2 PM.
- All dogs must be charming to our staff, please let them know our managers are not snacks to eat.
- Dogs are not allowed to poop in humans' homes. The same goes to B+B hotels. If they want to "go", they must be accompanied outside and their humans are, as usual, responsible for the consequential pooper scooping..

We kindly ask that you agree to these terms, on behalf of your pet as his/her guardian, by signing below

Regards,
B+B Edinburgh Team

If you're up for some adventure

Holyrood Park/Arthur's Seat

Holyrood Park is a short walk from Edinburgh's Royal Mile in the heart of the city. It is a 640 acre Royal Park adjacent to Holyrood Palace. The park's highest point is Arthur's Seat, an ancient volcano, and sits 251m above sea level giving an excellent view of the city; it is also the site of a large and well-preserved fort. This is one of four hill forts dating from around 2000 years ago. With its diverse range of flora and geology it is also a site of Special Scientific Interest.

Cramond / Cramond Island

Cramond lies on the south shore of the River Forth four miles North West of the centre of Edinburgh. It is almost cut off from the western edge of Edinburgh by a line of golf courses extending inland from the Forth, and its west edge is sharply defined by the River Almond flowing swiftly into the Estuary.

If the tide is out it is also possible to take the more adventurous walk of just over ¾ of a mile out along the tidal causeway to Cramond Island. But heed the notices setting out safe crossing times and don't set off unless you are certain you can get back well before the incoming tide cuts the causeway and returns island status to Cramond Island.

Pentland Hills

The Pentland Hills Regional Park, located in the south-west of Edinburgh, is a great place to visit and explore. It's an impressive landscape with a range of hills that was shaped over time by glaciers and water. The park covers an area of 90km². Its highest peak, Scald Law, is 579m high. You will find easy walking and cycling routes suitable for families as well as challenging hiking routes and steep and rough cycle paths.
