Top rated places in Edinburgh (by dogs)

 Arthur's seat and Holyrood Park for walks. There are some great pubs nearby to visit afterwards including Holyrood 9A, Hemma Bar the Kilderkin, the Regent Bar and the Auld Hoose.

 In Stockbridge there is Stockbridge tap, Hamilton's, The Bailie and the Antiquary as well as loads of "Dugs Welcome" shops including Just Dogs (which supplies everything a dog owner will ever need). And they always give us a treat there! Woof woof!

 In City Centre, we love Cambridge Bar and their burgers or Scotts of Rose Street. The Thistle Street Bar or the Bon Vivant are also good choices. In New Town area there is the Wally Dug and the Cumberland Bar

 If you want to get out of the City, please take me to Portobello! There is a beach for dogs to run along. There is also one of our favorite venues the Espy on the promenade next to the beach.

 If you fancy a dog friendly sightseeing tour then Edinburgh bus tour welcome well behaved dogs on board their tour buses.

 Princes Street Gardens. Dogs are allowed to be walked in Princes Street gardens but must be kept on lead at all times.

And if you're ever unsure or just up for some exploring, just look for the sign! According to the Dugs Welcome website (another great resource for finding dog friendly places to go in Edinburgh) their easy-to-spot sign means you can feel free to bring your pup into the establishment, and that the owners will not only tolerate your dog, but welcome it in, too.
